Urgent care and walk-in centers

Urgent care and walk-in centers are the place to go when your doctor's office is closed or booked and you need to be seen for a minor injury or illness, like a sprain or sore throat. You don't need an appointment and many have extended hours, including evenings and weekends. Some urgent care centers offer expanded services, like x-rays and lab work. It's a good idea to call ahead to be sure they can provide the care that you need.
